AgriVoltaics2020: The conference goes online!

Dear Sir/Madam,

Only four weeks to go until the AgriVoltaics 2020 conference will start!

As you all know, we had planned to hold the conference on-site in Perpignan, France, with all presentations available online as well. Lately, unfortunately the COVID-19 infections have started to rise again, new travel restrictions have come into place, and it becomes likely that the on-site conference may finally be cancelled by the authorities.

Therefore, and for the safety of all attendees, sponsors and staff, the Conference Committee has decided to go fully online with the conference. It is sad that we cannot meet in person, but we will make the best out of it!

AgriVoltaics2020 will be a full online conference maintaining the basic features of the live event:

- Oral presentations followed by live Q&A,
- poster presentations with live chat,
- contact possibilities,
- virtual sponsor and exhibition area,
- last but not least: a virtual field trip to installations in a vineyard!
